LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Thom Browne

the american fashion community is so many things...a group of individuals so unique... so diverse... so talented...

always striving for excellence and greatness to show that we're the best at what we do...
and to leave an impact on anyone willing to notice...

but now more than ever we must use these stories to make people question...

to imagine things in new ways... and create conversations that spark change...

to take the platforms we've created and remind people of the inspiration we can bring to the world...
never sacrificing craftsmanship and creativity...

over the past two years, we have focused on fostering creativity and championing the unique voices that define american fashion...

i'm proud of what we've accomplished and look forward to building on that work...

i am honored to continue serving as chairman of the cfd a board for two more years...
with board vice chairwoman aurora james, vice chairman prabal gurung, treasurer stacey bendet, and general secretary maria cornejo and the entire board...

to ensure the cfd a remains a home for the best in american talent...

thom.

LETTER FROM THE CEO & PRESIDENT

Steven Kolb

To call 2024 a success would be an understatement. During the year, the CFDA celebrated remarkable achievements in support of American fashion in ways we haven't seen in a long time.

At the CFDA Fashion Awards presented by Amazon Fashion, a new generation of designers swept the American Designer of the Year categories: Rachel Scott of Diotima for Womenswear, Willy Chavarria for Menswear, Raul Lopez of Luar for Accessory Design, and Henry Zankov of Zankov for Google Shopping Emerging. Each of these four talents has emerged from the CFDA/Vogue Fashion Fund, our pioneering designer program which, in 2024, marked two decades of fostering talent with initiatives like Americans in Paris in collaboration with Instagram and a Design Challenge with Tommy Hilfiger.

We led New York Fashion Week with exciting new initiatives: a shuttle service to and from shows in partnership with Google Shopping; live-streaming runway shows at the famed rink at Rockefeller Center, and accessibility support with Google. With the addition of international guest designers showing on the calendar, the week earned praise from editors and buyers for its innovation and creativity.

I am also particularly proud of important new programs we introduced to further our commitment to representation in American fashion: the Tiffany & Co. x CFDA Jewelry Designer Award, which recognized and mentored emerging talent in jewelry design; the Empowered Vision Award in partnership with the Frazier Family Foundation to provide $100,000 grants and mentorship for independent Black designers; the eBay Circular Fashion Fund offering prizes and workshops to advance sustainability in fashion, and the CFDA | Genesis House AAPI Design + Innovation Grant supporting Asian American and Pacific Islander designers.

As this was an election year, we also partnered with Vogue and I am a voter. to lead a voter registration march, Fashion For Our Future, and encourage civic engagement across the fashion community.

We added new donors and sponsors surpassing revenue targets to support the expansion of CFDA programs. The future is bright.

Steven Kolb

2024 at the CFDA

Each year at the CFDA is shaped by the collective energy of our members, partners, and programs. But 2024 stood apart—not just for the milestones reached, but for how clearly the work reflected our mission: to strengthen American fashion through creativity, sustainability, and positive impact.

The following pages trace the year through moments that mattered. From January to December, every event, initiative, and collaboration featured was born from one of the CFDA's signature pillars. Together, they tell the story of a fashion community moving forward—with purpose, with pride, and with the power to shape culture.

EVENTS

Defining American Style at Sotheby's

The CFDA and Sotheby's partnered on the CFDA: Defining American Style auction featuring some of the most iconic looks in American fashion history.

The auction featured 37 pieces that powerfully weave together the story of American fashion, from Michael Kors, Norma Kamali, James Galanos, Pauline Trigère, Bob Mackie, and Patrick Kelly to Mary McFadden, Ralph Rucci, Ralph Lauren, Donna Karan, Calvin Klein, Altuzarra, Proenza Schouler, and more.

All proceeds went to the CFDA Foundation, which benefits CFDA Scholarships and business mentoring to nurture the next generation of American fashion.

CFDA Glossary

CFDA, INC.

The Council of Fashion Designers of America, a 501(c)(6) trade organization, focused on industry initiatives, advocacy, and NYFW. It serves designers and promotes American fashion.

CFDA FOUNDATION

The CFDA's charitable 501(c)(3), supporting scholarships, inclusion, sustainability, and industry causes. It leads the organization's philanthropic work.

MEMBERSHIP

Membership within the CFDA is extended to designers who demonstrate exemplary design creativity and execution and are recognized for their unique brand signature and positive impact. To be admitted as a Member of the organization, candidates are first ratified by the CFDA Board of Directors then elected by the CFDA membership.

PROGRAM STRATEGIES

EDUCATION/SCHOLARSHIPS: Committed to supporting American fashion designers of tomorrow, the CFDA Scholarship Fund has awarded approximately $4 million and 376 scholarships from 1996 to 2024.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT: Professional Development provides high-value thought leadership engagements alongside dynamic digital content via Industry Insights. Programming is designed to support American designers and professionals' stability, success, and growth via virtual conversations, digital resource material, workshops, business mentorship, roundtable discussions, and networking events.

SUSTAINABLE INITIATIVES: The CFDA's Sustainability Initiatives provide a comprehensive, integrated program suite guided by a theory of change that centers on education, knowledge sharing, open-access resources, and designer support through grants, awards, and tailored mentorship.

FASHION SUPPLY CHAIN: The work includes programs and initiatives to help strengthen the foundational level of a designer's business, from sourcing and manufacturing to shipping and logistics. These efforts aim to strengthen local production, expand global networks for designers, and promote responsible practices across the industry.

SOCIAL IMPACT/DIVERSITY, EQUITY & INCLUSION

The IMPACT program was created to advance the economic mobility and social inclusion of underrepresented creatives in the American fashion industry by expanding access, supporting career development, and fostering community. As a multi-pronged initiative, IMPACT drives equity through strategic awards, education, and cultural dialogue—investing in talent and shaping a more inclusive industry.

CFDA FASHION AWARDS

The CFDA Fashion Awards are an annual event honoring the most influential and innovative figures in the American fashion industry. The evening celebrates creativity and achievement across design categories, including womenswear, menswear, accessory, and emerging talent. The Awards serve as the organization's most significant fundraising initiative for the CFDA Foundation, the separate not-for-profit entity established to support charitable causes and industry-related activities.

CFDA/VOGUE FASHION FUND

The CFDA/Vogue Fashion Fund was established after 9/11 to help emerging designers and cultivate the next generation of American fashion talent. Since its inception, 200 designers have received mentoring and a total of more than $8 million. Of the designers who have gone through the CFDA/Vogue Fashion Fund, 42 percent of those brands are fully or partially women owned, and 40 percent are fully or partially minority owned.

CFDA Team

FRIENDS OF THE CFDA

The Friends of the CFDA is a select group of individuals and companies with a demonstrated interest in the fashion industry and a desire to support the philanthropic mission of the CFDA. Led by Chairman Jordan Roth, invited members serve as ambassadors of CFDA's work and have the opportunity to build relationships with emerging and established designers, gain exclusive access to CFDA and partner events, and engage with leaders in the fashion industry.

Support from Friends of the CFDA helps fund the CFDA Foundation's work.

NEW YORK FASHION WEEK/FASHION CALENDAR

New York Fashion Week (NYFW), held each February and September, represents the intersection of talent discovery, creative diversity, and business development.

Since acquiring the Fashion Calendar — the digital resource for events, shows, and fashion week highlights — in 2014, the CFDA has served as the organizer of the Official New York Fashion Week Schedule. As such, the organization sets the official dates and organizes the official NYFW schedule for womenswear, menswear, and bridal collections.

PARTNERSHIPS

Business Development and Partnerships is responsible for driving the organization's revenue strategy by securing and managing key sponsorships and partnerships. Its primary role is to generate financial support through various partnership models that align with the CFDA's mission and priorities.

By emphasizing both traditional sponsorship avenues — such as national and state grants, corporate philanthropy, and educational programs — it supports the organization's growth while fostering sustainability in CFDA's initiatives.
